She was backed down to 3 to 5. Postmaster was reported to be a real good thing, but after being played a little his price receded to 11 to 5.

These two were the only ones in it at the end, and the good thing won handly by half a length. Harlequin was third.

Basil buke was the favorite for the third race, but his backers made haste to get off when they looked at him in the paddock. He was very sore and lame. So was Early Blessom, who opened second choice and went back. Ballarat was well played, and so was Dixie. Early Blossom won, notwithstanding her lameness. Alarm Bee, a 60 to 1 shot, was second and Dixie third.

One Woman Shot Dead-Vain Pursuit of the Fleeing Madman.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
MADRID, April 16.—In a church at Anglesola, a village in the province of Lerida, while the usual services of Good Friday were being observed, and Father Francisco Marti, the priest in charge of the parish, was kneelings at the altar, a man armed with a revolver and a short sword suddenly sprang out from behind the pulpit, at the left of the altar, and rushed upon the priest.

The man's eyes fairly blazed with insane fury. The people in the congregation were struck dumb with terror, and not one of them could make a movement.

Father Marti, whose back was to the congregation, seemed to have instinctive warning that danger threatened him, and partly turned his head in the direction of the man. his hands to attempt to ward off the sword blow he saw aimed at him.

' In an instant the priest lay dead in front of the altar. The assassin's blow had struck the back of his neck, and the keen blade al-most severed his head from his body. Part of the hand raised in the vain effort to ward off the blow was cut off and lay beside the bleeding body. By this time the people realized what they had seen. Women shricked in terror, and many of them fainted away. Some few of the men made an attempt to seize the mur-derer, but they were thwarted by the assassin, who levelled a revolver and fired right and left, driving his would-be captors to flight. One woman shrinking and crouching close to the alter raile, was nit by one of the bul-lets and fell dead to the floor. The worshippers were panic stricken. A general rush was made for the doors, and trampled upon by the excited throngs behind them. Several children injured in the rush, it is elleyed, will die. The assassin, when his revolver was emptied, sprang into the fleeing crowd, and wielding his sword, still dripping with the blood of the massacred priest, he slashed right and left, cutting his way to the street. The crowd huddled together to avoid the victous blows aimed at them, making as far as possible a clear path for the murderer, but quite a number of them were hit by the sharp weapon and very dangerously wounded. Once he reached the street the assassin started on Those Persistent Rumors that Elizabeth Track Will Reopen.

MONMOUTH TO BRIGHTEN UP.

Lord Roseberry Sets a New Fashion of Rewarding Jockeys.

The latest rumor concerning the Elizabeth race track is that that association will throw open its gates on Monday. Absurd as this statement is it is given out in good faith by a morning newspaper. No official announcement has been made to corsemen and no pra-grammes have been issued. There are not enough horses at Elizabeth to fill two races decently. And yet it is said that Mr. Dwyer "contemplates reopening the track on Mon-day." The Elizabeth track may resume ractog, and it may not. It is the writer's opinion and the belief of many others that Mr. Dwyer is bluffing. The Hudson County Jockey Club has paid during the past year over $75,000 to the Elizabeth and Linden associations. Circumstances would not allow of their purchasing the dates of these associations for this Spring. Natu-rally Messrs. Dwyer and Appleby do not like to give up a good thing without a struggle, and hence the reports of Elizabeth's reopening. The Guttenburg people declared yeaterday that they would go on racing just the same until May 14. Mr. James E. Kelly, who is very close to Mr. Appleby, said in an interview that Mr. Appleby had received an offer from Mr. Dwyer of a hapdsome sum for Elizabeth's dates. He could not say, however, whether or no the deal had been consummated. A well-known horseman yesterday offered to bet 20 to 1 that Elizabeth would not race this Spring.

There was no investigation into the alleged swindling of the messenger boys at North Bergen yesterday. Mr. Carr was detained at nome by the iliness of his little daughter and for this reason no action was taken. The matter win probably be taken up to-day.

Auctioneer William Easton, who is well-known to turimen as the representative of Tattersall's, has come forward and effered his services in aid of the proposed benefit to the widow and daughter of Capt.
